About Chris Carson

Chris was born in Ottumwa, Iowa, and grew up in Tempe, Arizona. She is an author, artist, and licensed Art of Feminine Presence® teacher. After a life-changing experience in 2017, she wrote her breakout bestselling book, "Chosen: Living Your Purpose in Life," which started her on a mission to help Christian women discover happiness through living their God-given purpose.

A natural empath, Chris's outgoing nature and great sense of humor set people at ease and draw them in to listen.

Chris speaks on a variety of topics: from her chief subject, the "Law of Attraction" from a Christian perspective, to comedy, business development, book writing and publication, acting, dating, cats, and crafts.

Chris obtained her B.A. in English from Arizona State University and enjoys expressing her creativity through drawing animals and desert scenes, as well as crocheting unusual items, such as food, plants, and 3D "yarn portraits."

Chris has appeared at WordPress's WordCamp and on the nationally broadcast radio show "Marnie's Friends."
